Open to public by Internet for full texts of doctoral thesis/dissertation (check on either ☐)	☒	【Full-text availability via Internet】 Upon confirming the copyright information concerning internet publication, I would like the doctoral thesis/dissertation full text I wrote to be made accessible via Internet (☐ immediately ☐ 11 months) after receiving my doctoral degree. (If you check this item, do not fill in any further information.)
	☐	【Postponement of open access to the full text via Internet for one year or more】 I would like to postpone open access to the doctoral thesis/ dissertation full text via Internet for one year or more due to the reasons written on the back side. The digest will be made accessible via Internet instead of the full text until those reasons are resolved. I agree that the full text may be made accessible via Internet or further postponed based on the judgement of the main supervisor or director of appropriate division. (Completing the backside and digest submission is required)

This page is not necessary for submission.

Note:

- * Scheduled resolution date of justifiable reason has to be filled in.
- * The doctoral thesis/dissertation full-text postponement period due to justifiable reasons is limited to up to three years after receiving the degree.
- * When the scheduled resolution date of the justifiable reason is not decided at the time of application, tentatively write the date three years from the application date. If the justifiable reason has not been resolved by that date, please reapply to postpone digital archiving of doctoral thesis/dissertation via Internet. If this reapplication is not done, the main supervisor or director of the appropriate division shall be able to decide whether the justifiable reason for postponement has been resolved or not in place of graduates.
- * When it is clear that the justifiable reason will continue more than three years after receiving your degree, please fill in the predicted date and attach materials to support this.
- * Please contact the Library immediately when the justifiable reason is resolved earlier than the scheduled date.
